

MARQUEE

ROB MALLET

Tasmanian born Rob Mallett graduated from the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts (WAAPA) in 2012 with a BA in Music Theatre. During his last year at WAAPA Rob appeared in a docudrama for the BBC, Desert Rats, and a telemovie for ABC 1, The Accidental Soldier.

On graduating, Rob appeared in a guest role on the TV series House Husbands for the Nine Network, before heading back to the stage in the role of Buck, for the national tour of Hot Shoe Shuffle, directed by David Atkins. In the same year Rob was named a top 6 finalist in the Rob Guest Endowment.

Rob's other theatre credits include the national two year tour of Cameron Mackintosh's Les Misérables covering the role of Marius; the national tour of Dainty Group's Singin In The Rain as part of the Ensemble/Don cover and Disney Theatrical Production's critically acclaimed musical, Aladdin, in the role of Kassim. Rob has performed in A Cole Porter Celebration for Sydney Philharmonia Choirs as a lead vocalist and last year Rob reprised his role as Brad Majors in The Rocky Horror Show having previously toured nationally with The Rocky Horror Show for GFO.

Rob has built on his screen credits include guest roles on the series Winners & Losers for the Seven Network, Wakefield for BBC Studios and the Showtime Network and he also played the multi episode role of Bob Forsyth on the long running series Home & Away for the Seven Network.

Rob can currently be seen on stage in the leading role of Elvis Presley in the musical Elvis: A Musical Revolution.