
MARQUEE

PENNY McNAMEE

Multi-talented Penny McNamee has starred in leading roles across film, television and theatre.

Penny's US television credits include Stephen King's Salem's Lot (CBS), Steven Spielberg's The Pacific (HBO), Political Animals (USA), Elementary (CBS) and Blue Bloods (CBS).

Penny was a series regular for six years in the Seven Network's hugely popular drama Home and Away in the role of Dr Tori Morgan, which saw her nominated for a Logie Award. Penny's other Australian television credits include roles in White Collar Blue, All Saints, Headland and Foxtel's Satisfaction.

Penny's feature film credits include lead roles in the US feature film, See No Evil (Lionsgate) and John Duigan's critically acclaimed Australian feature Careless Love.

Penny's Australian theatre credits include Jennifer Gabriel in the Witches of Eastwick for Cameron Mackintosh, Nessarose in the original Australian production of Wicked - for which she won a Green Room Award, Donna in the Griffin Theatre's production of Hurlyburly, Ella in Bells are Ringing for the Hayes Theatre Company and Alaura Kingsley in City of Angels, also for the Hayes Theatre Company. Penny's international musical theatre credits include Daddy Long Legs and Rocket Science both staged in New York City.

As a writer, Penny currently writes episodes for Home and Away and has recently signed a book deal with Scholastic with her first young-adult fiction series due for release in 2024.