

Acting Bio:
Barnabe Brokensha

Barnabe was born and grew up in Normandie, France. After moving to Sydney Australia at the age of ten, He then began to find his desire for the theatre as a tool of expression and adapting to his new surroundings. Finding success in attaining a Drama Scholarship at Reddam Performing Arts High School in Sydney. Meanwhile continuing his acting training at NIDA, through Intensive workshops and being part of the Young Actors Studio (2011). He began to find work as a young actor including working with Baz Lurhman. Barnabe returned to acting as an adult with fresh training under his belt. Studying the Meisner Technique at the Actors Pulse and Graduating from Howard Fine Acting Studio (2016). Barnabe has an array of stage and screen experience.