

My name is Augusto (Gus) Sosa, and I'm an Argentine actor now based in Sydney, Australia, after spending over a decade in New Zealand. I'm fluent in both Spanish and English and enjoy exploring a wide range of roles, always aiming to bring authenticity and depth to every character I portray.

I graduated from Yoobee South Seas Film and Television School with a specialization in Drama and have had the opportunity to work on major productions such as The Lord of the Rings, M3GAN, Evil Dead, and Spartacus: House of Ashur.

In addition to acting, I'm deeply passionate about storytelling. I've written and directed short films and am currently developing my own web series.

Now based in Sydney, I'm excited to grow within the Australian film and television industry and am always looking for new challenges and creative collaborations that push me further as an artist.
