
MARQUEE

CLAUDE JABBOUR

Claude Jabbour could most recently be seen in the supporting role of Farid on ABC/Netflix miniseries Stateless, directed by Emma Freeman and Jocelyn Moorhouse starring Cate Blanchett, Yvonne Strahovski and Jai Courtney. He also featured in children's comedy The Unlisted for ABC/Netflix and had a lead supporting role as Tariq Al Amir in Lingo Picture's On the Ropes directed by Shannon Murphy for SBS/Sony Crackle.

Claude's other screen credits include roles in television series' Fat Tony & Co for Nine Network, The Warriors for ABC, as well as feature films No Two Snowflakes currently in post production and M4M, directed by Paul Ireland and starring Hugo Weaving.

On Stage, Claude recently played the character of 'Ralph' in The Motherfker with the Hat for Melbourne Actors Lab theatre. A talented comedic actor and writer, Claude's impressions and original sketches have been featured on The Juice Media and The B-League with Sam Mac and Jules.