Bio

Born and raised in Sydney's inner west, Ellen always had a passion for performing, training in dance and music. She has trained for ten years on piano, clarinet and a variety of dance styles, achieving her grade eight in piano and on clarinet. However she realized after her debut on stage at the age of fifteen as the Mad Hatter that all she wanted to do was to tell fascinating and exciting stories.

Ellen briefly studied at UNSW doing extension music and theatre and performance studies. The following year, she jumped on a plane to Perth attend WAAPA for three years. She has been involved in many workshops with ATYP, NIDA, Larry Moss, Les Chancery and Howard Fine. Also, Ellen has worked closely with accent and dialect coach, Gabrielle Rogers, on US and UK accents. Funny women, sad women, strong women and trees of any age, Ellen Robson can do them all.
