Laura Bunting is an Australian actor awarded Best Female Actor at Tropfest 2026 for her performance in Crescendo, which also won Best Film. With a foundation in music theatre and leading roles in major productions, she brings emotional precision, grounded vulnerability and an edgy, offbeat energy to her screen work. Laura gravitates toward intelligent, complex female characters with depth and bite.

She is currently developing her debut children's music album, aiming to introduce a fresh, contemporary voice to the Australian children's music space that resonates with both children and parents alike. Laura is focused on film and television projects across Australia.
