Starring in many plays and musicals throughout her youth, Kate began her studies at the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts straight out of high school and is grateful to be pursuing her greatest passion. Her recent roles include Junius Brutus in Shakespeare's Coriolanus, Charlotte Corday in Marat/Sade and Lucie Manette in A Tale of Two Cities.

Kate is set to graduate WAAPA in 2016, and looks forward to entering the industry. She hopes one day to be able to work with the many actors who inspire her.
