

Nancy Rizk is an Australian born actress of Middle Eastern heritage who has been getting her paws wet in Los Angeles following her success in her homeland of Melbourne, Australia.

A graduate of the Howard Fine Acting Studio and teachings of Ted Brunetti she has recently landed a role on a new TV series entitled "Emergency LA" as series regular Jennifer Jackson (J.J.). This is being produced and filmed in none other than Los Angeles itself. The heartbeat of the industry.

Nancy is a very strong actress and her dominance on screen is second to none. Nancy is a welcome breath of fresh air who pushes the boundaries and standards for strong female leads. Combat trained, Nancy loves sword fighting, archery, and enjoys getting dirty (on set!) She also speaks multiple languages and loves to push herself to the outer limits of her potential.

Additionally, Nancy has returned back from LA where she has been living and working and most importantly building her resume to the standard of a very accomplished actress.

Her most recent accomplishments include, Deadly Women, The Veil, and The Black Mask just to name a few. Nancy has also put on her writer and producers hat and has produced her very first TV series Full Disclosure. Full Disclosure has won multiple awards which Nancy is very humbled and proud of. It was the winner at the Hollywood International Moving Pictures Film Festival for best Webisode/New Media and nominated best ensemble cast at the NYC Web Fest. With a whole lot on the horizon this little pocket rocket is just getting started.

She is the epitome of hard work and dedication to the craft and as Nancy always states, "there is no rest for the wicked".
