

Lily Matthews (she/her) is an Aboriginal Actor from the Quandamooka people. She is based in Meanjin/Brisbane and is known for her ability to blend innocence with intensity, she brings layered performances to roles that require both vulnerability and edge. Prior to her Bachelor of Fine Arts (Acting), she completed a Diploma of Performing Arts (Stage and Screen) at the Aboriginal Centre for Performing Arts and in 2024 a summer intensive at the New York Conservatory for Dramatic Arts, focussed on screen and voice over acting. Lily has always had a love for dance, learning traditional Aboriginal dance, jazz and contemporary. She has performed publicly and in music videos. She has aspirations to tell her own stories through writing and creating her own work and looks forward to learning from her industry elders.
