

ALICIA CASE

Professionally trained actor Alicia Case has appeared in South Australian produced short films Maurice's Symphony and most recently Honey. She has appeared in national TVC's for San Remo's Fantastic Go for Goodies and People's Choice Credit Union Insurance ad Superstition. She is also a voice over artist, most recently narrating for Journey Beyond.

Alicia works as a Standardised Patient at the University of Adelaide, role playing for Medical and Health Sciences students to develop complex communication skills and assisting them in physical examinations.

She also has experience facilitating Acting classes for Ovation Centre of Performing Arts, True North Theatre Ensemble, Heesom Casting and most recently teaching script analysis for Tafe SA's Discovering Acting Short Course at Adelaide College of the Arts.

In 2016 Alicia studied at the prestigious Stella Adler Studio of Acting in New York with world renowned acting teachers such as Patrick Quagliano, Alice Saltzman and Maureen Megibow (Script Interpretation at NYU Tisch School of the Arts). While at Stella Adler Alicia also volunteered her time to the Outreach Division program, where she participated and assisted the Director of Outreach, Tommy Demenkoff in providing free Actor Training for underserved populations from Phoenix House, GOSO (Getting Out and Staying Out) and many more.

Alicia was truly inspired by the work Stella Adler does in Correctional Services and really does believe in their adage 'Growth as an actor and growth as a human being are synonymous'. And in 2018 began volunteering at South Australia's Mobilong prison running Drama Workshop.

Alicia is a passionate Equity member and looks forward to continue working in the industry as an actor and performer in film, TV and theatre.
